

GAMMA SIGS WIN SCHOLAR- SHIP CUP

Pi Omega Pi Is Second; Alpha Sigma Lambda Leads Fraternities.

PIERCE, REYNOLDS ARE TIED

The Pan-Hellenic Council of the University of Omaha announces the Scholastic Standings of the Greeks for the last year. Gamma Sigma Omicron won the cup, having the highest percentage of any fraternity or sorority. Last year the Pi Omega Pi sorority, which ranks second this year, won the cup.

Following the Gamma Sigma Omicron and Pi Omega Pi in order of decreasing averages were Alpha Sigma Lambda, Phi Delta Psi, Sigma Chi Omicron, Kappa Psi Delta, Phi Sigma Phi.

Alpha Sigma Lambda, taking third, in the Pan-Hellenic rating, made the highest average among the fraternities, followed by Theta Phi Delta and Phi Sigma Phi.

A tie resulted for the highest individual averages, both Greeks being boys. Frederic Pierce, of the Theta Phi Delta, and Milton Reynolds of the Alpha Sigma Lambda making an average of 93 for the comparative year.

The cup which is awarded each year, was presented to the university by Alpha Sigma Lambda. Phi Delta Psi won the cup the first year it was awarded, 1924-1925. The following year Sigma Chi Omicron won the cup. The cup was not presented during 1926-1927.

First Officers of Drama Club Elected

COMMITTEE APPOINTED FOR CONSTITUTION AND BY-LAWS

The University of Omaha Drama Club, which was organized last Friday, March 1, held the election of officers at that time. Those elected are: Frederic Pierce, president; Ellen Anne Slader, vice-president; Dorothy Wulff, secretary and Norwood Woerner, treasurer.

A committee was appointed to draw up a constitution and by-laws. Harold Glass will serve as chairman, Forest Lenniger and Dorothy Wulff will assist.

The membership is to be open to the student body and those with dramatic ability are urged by the president to try out for a place. The tryouts are to be by appointment with Mrs. Baumeister and membership will be by election.

The next play that will be presented by the Dramatic class is "His Majesty, Bunker Bean."

Pi O Formal Banquet Held at Blackstone

The annual formal banquet of the Pi Omega Pi sorority was held on Thursday, February 28 at the Blackstone Hotel. There were approximately 30 members of the Alumnae and active members present. The theme of the banquet was "Jewels," and the tables were artistically decorated with hammered silver jewel cases and red balloons on which the girls' names were printed in silver ink; these served as place cards. Leah Dauenbeyer, president of the Alumnae chapter told of the desired relationship between the two chapters. June Pichard spoke for the newly initiated actives on the subject of "Faddy and Synthetic Jewels." Ellen Ann Slader of the active chapter spoke of the "Sorority Jewel Box," in which she likened each member to a jewel. Margaret Graham of the alumnae chapter gave a poetic review of the "Pi Place," the official record of the activities of the active chapter. The whole banquet was gay in spirit and the introductions were interspersed with anecdotes about the speakers who in turn retailed with anecdotes about the main mistress. Mrs. E. W. Emery was the honored guest of the sorority.

Start of a New Era?

Who before has heard of a four day over Sunday election? No country or institution that we can think of ever has had such a phenomenon save the University of Omaha. The last day of the election is being put over tonight at the Night Law School. Many are predicting that in case a Night Law student is elected queen, the great function will be changed in name and fact to Gala Night. We can but wait.

It is believed by numerous students that the proximity to the inauguration of Hoover, a technical man, has had a weighty influence upon the conduction of this election. And in no way as in the Arts and Science College. Here one merely was in need of a prior mail order memory course and not two memory courses to know who was running and subsequently who to vote for. The enlightening sheet of paper handed to some perplexed students helped them to rapidly erase the name of Dorothy Manger for Sophomore attendant and substitute that of Helen Marks.

Technical men are said to value economy highly. The motive for the type of ballots (?) used no doubt may be so assigned. It is conceded that he would have been quite expensive to have included in the mimeograph operation the names of those running for offices together with spaces for crosses before their names.

It took hundreds of years to develop the current balloting system. It remained for us to improve upon that in a day.

SPANISH CLUB ELECTS CHAPMAN PRESIDENT

The Spanish Club which has been unusually quiet so far this year, elected the following officers at a meeting held February 25: President, K. N. Chapman; vice-president, Arthur Dunn; secretary, Glen Haugness; treasurer, Fred Pierce; sergeant at arms, Fred Widoe.

The purpose of this club is to promote and further the use of the Spanish Language and to interest other students in this department. All Spanish students are eligible for membership.

Dr. MacRae Talks to Pre-Med Club

The regular meeting of the Pre-Medic Club was held Thursday, Febr. 28, at 9:00 o'clock.

Dr. Donald MacRae from Council Bluffs emphasized the value of a physical examination in the field of medicine. He spoke of the necessity of educating the public to request the examinations rather than medicine. He explained the advantage of aseptic surgery and the rapid advances of surgery and medicine.

SKATING RINK FOR SUCCESSFUL PARTY

Price and Nuckolls Win Prizes

On February 25 the College of Commerce gave a skating party at the Skating rink at 24th and J, South Omaha. Twenty-eight members were present, the hall being rented by the College of Commerce for the evening.

Lucile Koutsy, Oscar Manger and Clark Wohlers had charge of the party and those present are said to have had a wonderful time. Numerous tumbles were experienced by practically all members, prizes being awarded for the absence of the same. Kathryn Price and Thomas Nuckolls ran a close race for the prizes, "Tommy" losing out by one tumble.

First prize of a box of candy was awarded to Kathryn Price and booby or rather second prize, of a bottle of Sloan's Liniment was given to Thomas Nuckolls.

Many members, it was reported, were rather sore the next day, however the College of Commerce soon intends to hold another such party.

Department of Music Makes Rapid Strides

Expands from Twenty Students to Four Hundred—Numerous Branches Busy.

The Music Department of the University of Omaha, headed by Professor Noel J. Logan, has since the beginning of the year, grown from some twenty students to an approximate total of four hundred, and, according to Professor Logan, there is every indication that this number will continue to increase. The faculty of this department has more than tripled.

In the way of piano courses, the Conservatory is now offering class piano instruction, preparatory and advanced piano work, and sight reading. The class piano instruction is conducted in a most unusual manner. The preparatory piano department may graduate students regardless of whether they are college students or not, giving them a degree in this particular line. Practice in sight reading is offered in two hand and four hand work.

Public school music work, offered in both two year and four year courses, is based upon the most progressive of the modern methods, such as are being used by this country's leading educational institutions. This department has a large number of students.

In the vocal field, many things are being done. Beginning and advanced instruction is being given and the numerous vocal organizations are doing a great deal of work. The Choral Society which is working on the oratorio "Elijah," is comprised of city vocalists together with university students. The university choir is working on a definite program in preparation for the concert soon to be given in and about Omaha. The Girl's Glee Club is practicing regularly.

Organ instruction is also being given this semester. A fine course in theater playing is the special feature of this department. This is an unusual opportunity and is being taken by many.

Preparatory and advanced work is being taught. Cello instruction is also offered this semester. This work is much in demand and is expected to prove to be a very popular phase of music work.

Lessons on brass and wood wind instruments as well as drums, are also being given. Instruction may be obtained on trumpet, trombone, french horn, flute, piccolo, saxophone, clarinet, oboe, bassoon, euphonium, tuba, sousaphone and all drums. Students are urged by Mr. Logan to take advantage of this opportunity.

The Conservatory's Public Service Bureau, which has been filling many engagements throughout the city with students and faculty talent, finds that the demands upon its resources have become

Dean Rene Stevens Returns from East

SAYS PROCEDURE AT N.E.A.
MEET OF DYNAMIC
QUALITY

Weather Cold—Hears Little Speak

Dean Rene Stevens, who recently returned from the N. E. A. Convention at Cleveland, Ohio, said that she had a most profitable and interesting trip. The trip, she explained, possessed an element of reminiscence and the contrast since the last convention she had attended in Cleveland was the National Republican Convention of 1924. At that time the politicians wilted under a summer heat which sent the mercury sailing well up into the nineties, whereas at the N. E. A. Convention, the Deans of Women were treated to a snow-storm every day with the temperature hovering around zero.

Mrs. Stevens explained that the weather conditions detracted nothing from the dynamic quality of the various sessions nor from the stimulation of the personal contacts made between the sessions at the social affairs held.

The high lights in the regular program, she thought, were the addresses by Mrs. Eleanor Rowland Wembridge, Referee of the Juvenile Court of Cleveland; by Florence E. Allen, Judge of the Supreme Court of Cleveland; and by Clarence C. Little, president of the University of Michigan, Ann Arbor, Michigan.

Professor Kuhn Talks on Swiss Landscapes

Professor Kuhn gave a radio talk on Switzerland over W. O. W. last Saturday. He said that the marvelous beauty of its landscapes and the majesty of the Alps attracted yearly hundreds of thousands of travelers from every part of the globe. He spoke of how stubbornly the Swiss defended their independence for centuries. He pointed out the great similarity between the political institutions of Switzerland and those of the United States. He cited some of the instances in which Swiss social legislation is far in advance of American legislation. He described the economic life of Switzerland, its thriving industries and their astonishing variety; he surprised the audience by stating that according to official American statistics the per capita wealth of Switzerland exceeds that of the United States, and that in spite of the fact that Switzerland is proportionately much poorer in natural resources. He pointed out the eminence of the Swiss in literature, art, engineering and the field of education and religion.

He reminded the audience that the University of Omaha is arranging a tour to Switzerland and that both Dr. Emery and Professor Kuhn are planning to do some research work at the city of Berne, the capital of Switzerland.

so great that it is impossible to meet them all.

The fact that regular college credit is given for this work, is an inducement to those students who desire to take some music. It is also well to note that work taken in the conservatory may be applied in various campus organizations. The choir, choral society, glee club, band and orchestra furnish adequate opportunity for work in both vocal and instrumental lines. Moreover, it is possible for the music students to make arrangements for practicing at the University.

All students, including those from the College of Commerce, who are interested in musical activities are urged to see Professor Logan. The band, orchestra and the girl's glee club will be glad to receive new members.

The music department is forging rapidly ahead.

Be sure and consult YOUR name on the student and faculty directory list. Look on the bulletin board.

Those Election Returns!

Although the ballyhoo and collegiate din that accompanied the Gala Day election has died down, the curiosity that naturally follows such a din has but begun. It seems that those in authority are determined to keep facts a deep, dark secret for the time being.

No matter what the results are, we are going to be glad. We are going to congratulate whoever is victor in the contest. This won't be hard to do, for we know that whoever may be elected to fill the position of Her Majesty, the Queen of the May, will be sweet and utterly lovely in her part.

We are certain that her attendants will be quite worthy of the Queen they will serve. We know that the Central Committee will work hard to make the occasion a success.

In fact, we know that everything will be all right no matter who is elected. In other words, the Gala Day Fete is going to be a success, we know it.

SPANISH INSTRUCTOR HEADS ASSEMBLY

Professor Roy C. Phillips, the Spanish instructor was the entertainer at the Assembly, Wednesday, February 27. He played three original compositions, "The Yodel Waltz," "The Indian Lullaby" and a march that he has not named.

At the Assembly, Friday, March 1, Professor Boghdon Shlanta represented the Music Department and presented some violin and cello solos. The selections were "Kujawiak," by H. Wieniawski, and "Orientele," by Cesar Cui. As an encore he played "The Swan Song," arranged by C. Saint-Saens. He was accompanied on the piano by Irene Goosman.

The Assembly closed with a rousing pep meeting.

Missionary of China Speaks at Meeting

The joint meeting of the Y. W. C. A. Y. M. C. A. was held in the Conservatory Tuesday, February 26, with Elma Gove, program chairman, presiding.

The meeting opened with song and prayer, followed by announcements. The Y. W. members were urged to come out for Girls' Glee Club, organized by Mr. Logan, which meets every Monday at 4 o'clock. This is a real opportunity to support the valuable activity and to partly repay the director for his kind services to the Y. Don Butler and Linda Bradway urged that as many students as possible attend the Student Volunteer Convention at York.

Dr. Curtis Galt, a medical missionary just returned from China, gave an interesting talk on "Thrills." He stated that while there are many thrills in life, most of them are fleeting. The thrill secured from seeing people converted lasts a lifetime and brings real happiness. He gave illustrations from his own life work as a missionary, notably the story of the leper colony. In closing, Dr. Galt read a story in which the writer dreamed of seeing five of the disciples tempted to leave their saving work. According to Dr. Galt the fact that they did not yield to this temptation teaches a lesson to the people of today.

Dr. Galt will probably return at some future date to speak at assembly.

Debaters Win Three Out of Four Contests

Filling out a full schedule for the week, the University of Omaha debate squads won both victory and defeat. In the first encounter, the negative team of Omaha, consisting of Bruce Baker, Allen Cohen and Helena Gehrman, defeated the affirmative team from Grand Island, 3-0.

The dual debate with Corner College was postponed again due to the fact that the Corner debaters misunderstood the arrangements.

Friday night the affirmative team of Omaha won a contest from Grand Island, 2-1. Saturday night the same team lost to Kearney while the negative team won the Kearney affirmative debate.

PRESIDENT TO GIVE SENIORS RECEPTION

Event Will Set Precedent—Today
First Senior Play of History.

JUNIORS TO SERVE

On March 6, the faculty and President and Mrs. Emery will honor the graduating class of the entire university at a reception to be given in Jacobs Memorial Gymnasium. The reception is to be formal and will take place during the conventional hours from 8 to 10 o'clock.

Mrs. Leslie Johnson, chairman of the Social Committee reports that two hundred invitations have been issued to the affair—that it is to be sociable in nature and a splendid musical entertainment from the university's own Conservatory of Music will comprise the program. Brief talks will be given by President Emery and the president of the Senior class. One member of the Board of Trustees will also talk (his name not yet announced.)

The Social Committee is considered the best organized committee among the faculty. It has been active all year in many social events that have helped the Board of Trustees, the faculty and students to become more congenial and to further a more harmonious life among members of the College of Arts and Science.

The coming Senior Reception is to set a precedent on the annals of the University of Omaha history. March 6th is to be henceforth known as Senior Reception Day when the entire day shall be given over to Senior activities.

We will observe the next graduates appearing in caps and gowns, also mortar board caps.

The Junior class is to act as assistant hosts to the faculty. Juniors will serve refreshments to the guests. It is reported that there will be the decoration scheme of a Spanish garden.

Girls' Glee Club Elects Linda Bradway Pres.

The Girls' Glee Club elected the following officers, Monday, February 25: Miss Linda Bradway, president; Miss Elma Gove, vice-president; Miss Irene Goosman, secretary and Miss Gertrude True, librarian.

"We could have forty members in our Glee Club as easy as not," said Professor Noel Logan very emphatically. "Nothing sounds better than a girls' glee club full of pep! Members of the choir may join the Glee Club if they do not drop their choir work. If prospective members think the hour too inconvenient, they should all manage to come out next Monday, we may be able to fix a better time." The club meets at 4:15 on Mondays. Students may work for credit in this work.

The club is now studying "Amaryllis," "To a Wild Rose" by MacDowell, "Gypsy Life," and "Gleam, Gleam." The various members are doing individual practicing on these numbers, but this is not required.

Gertrude True Heads University Orchestra

Miss Gertrude True was elected president of the University Orchestra at an informal election held after the rehearsal, Wednesday, February 27. Miss Gertrude McDonald was elected vice-president. A marked improvement was shown in the orchestra due to the fact that there were several new members and several old members who had not been coming regularly to the rehearsal. The down from various groups and one lone student at the rehearsal.

A SIGN OF SPRING

Spring is coming, SPRING is coming. How do we know, does someone make bold to ask. Because, little children, we are reporters, and we use our eyes and ears to find out other people's business, that's how we know. 'Tis always said that when the birds begin to come, and when the days get a little warmer (a little warmer, we repeat), AND when spring housecleaning begins, that spring is just around the corner.

Just so, someone out at the campus decided that the time to herald spring had approached so he, and some other folks, and their helpers, and all the rest, set to work to rejuvenate their old gym. And have they done it? Absolutely, and in style. That green makes us think of water, to wade in, and to swim in, sail on, or even to row on (if someone else would do the rowing). And let us add, when everything is done, and the gym shows up resplendent in green and tan, then everyone ought to do something about it, go to chapel or a basketball game or something like that.

But, with all this surplus energy laying loose, the spring cleaning didn't stop there. It penetrated into even the inner office of our president, Dr. Emery. It's just all strange in there, 'cause the whole thing's turned backward. Just the same, we think it's not half bad looking, with the sunlight streaming in on the nicest kind of a brook (in a picture, of course), where again we wanted to go wading. And if, as it is reported, a copy of the beautiful cathedral at Rheims should hang on the other wall, we know that the office will be more of an inspiration than ever.

And we were just wondering if all the rest of the school wouldn't do pretty well to do the same thing, a little cleaning, and make this university one grand place.

A goodly deed never dies for it doth pass into eternity.

ASSIGNMENTS

The new semester has been duly inaugurated and the student body has settled itself down to its work. The semester has opened with a zeal that can only come from a body of students who have some definite goal in view.

This goal, in many cases, depends on the curricular achievement of the student. The second semester is a long siege of work, uninterrupted, except for a brief two-day spring vacation. It is almost too much to hope that this ambition will last the whole of the year. Yet, it seems that the surest cause of death is being placed in the path of arduous toil. Some professors, carried away with the interest that they have for their subjects, lose sight of the fact that it is just one of several that occupy the student's mind. To this end those professors give long, hard assignments to the members of their classes.

Of course, the student is aware that he should spend two hours preparing each of his subjects, but even the best of them object when a sudden caprice seizes a professor and he assigns a lesson that calls forth the expenditure of from three to four hours in preparation.

The student body is justifiably chagrined by this growing habit of certain professors on the campus who absolutely ignore the other responsibilities of the student. It is usually these same professors who hold their classes over time and cause students to be late to the next class, something a great deal of loss in time and in some cases the loss of an hour or more from their credit hours. A little mercy and consideration on the part of the faculty members will be a significant factor in maintaining the feeling that denotes the beginning of a new regime.

This world that we're a-livin' in
Is mighty hard to beat
For you get a them with every race—
But ain't the same sweet!

Mac's Mutterings

WE ADVISE everyone to take another look at that bulletin regarding penalty absences and tardies. After being docked one perfectly good credit for having two tardies, we made a personal investigation and decided to pass the word along.

THAT YORK convention was a big success, partly due to the fact that this university sent such a large delegation.

WE HAD a wonderful dream the other night about that new municipal university that we will attend next fall. The athletic teams won victory after victory and the assembly attendance was superb. Of course we soon woke up.

RECENTLY A request was made for someone to be editor of the Greek Jabs column. We are keeping all prospects on file. Such an editor never lasts for more than two issues. Sort of a standing grave-yard position, you might say. Anyone else, now, that feels lucky?

HAVING BEEN blessed (?) with a true Scotch name, our readers seem to get quite a kick out of sending us all the Scotch jokes they can get hold of.

FROM SOME unknown source comes the one about the Scot who was so tight that he turned side-ways when a steam-roller ran over him so that it wouldn't take the crease out of his trousers!

WE TAKE this opportunity of thanking B. A., Lillian H. and Walt W. for their letters.

HEY? HEY? Please turn to the Through the Hoop column and glance at the remark that the unknown writer of that page has made. We think that it may come from our friend, Merle Mennie, who is today mentioned in the Greek Jabs column along with his playmates. Please see the Bible prof. for the definition of hypocrisy.

OF COURSE the readers of this press who do not attend the university may think that we do nothing else but fight all the time in this office. We do eat once in a while. Our differences, dear reader, are merely an expression of unshackled youth.

READERS OF the Public Pulse have been pleading for a local H. L. Menckin. Here we thought all along that everyone was reading this column and feeling perfectly satisfied.

Max No Difference

MANY DRESSES ARE bought on the installment plan. But usually the purchasers do not get enough installments.

IT IS EASY to remember that Byron wrote his first poem while in college as he entitled it "Hours of Idleness."

SOME GIRLS WOULD be willing to live on a man's income—if he would get another for himself.

I KNOW A GUY that is so dumb that he went to the zoo to buy some Christmas seals.

A CIRCUS SWORD swallower picked up a clown's foot by mistake and remarked that it tasted flat.

WHEN A UNIVERSITY couple broke off their engagement he told her she might give him a ring sometime.

TELL A TRAFFIC COP you were trying to catch a train and he will give you your ticket.

WHEN A HUSBAND invites a band to play for him at a home-made movie of the wife he is sometimes asked if it is a "talkie."

A Student's Idea of A Formal Banquet

A formal banquet has been misnamed. It should have been called foreign. Everyone feels out of place, (if they feel at all) which is probably due to the vertebrae.

In preparing for the banquet you have to spend two weeks starching your clothes so that you will be able to walk straight and sit straight. This is very essential because it gives one poise-ition. And to be sure you must give your tongue about a week of scrimmage so it will know all the signals and will not be caught off guard.

When entering the dining room you generally enter in a body—your mind is somewhere else.

If at any time you wish to speak to your foreign neighbor you must first ask permission; and above all things speak in the foreign language you have studied so she can't understand you.

Many become confused as to which instrument to use. In case of doubt use the knife because it has the greatest amount of surface and will convey the most food to the mouth, thus cutting down the number of trips. Very economical indeed. Some people like to filter their food and so use the fork, but this is not done by the best of us. The spoon is used by nervous people so that the edible ingredients will not be lost on their long journey from the cake eater's platform to the horizontal cavity in the face.

The faculty think they have something on us students because they are older. But they haven't until one of them knocks a glass of water over with his elbow.

It is customary to have speakers at a foreign banquet. Through politeness on behalf of the speaker everyone is required to pay attention. For this reason Scotchmen never attend an occasion of this kind.

To be sure we must not omit the results of such an occasion. Much time is spent in extracting the starch from the clothes. And an all night's sleep in a bath-tub will take most of the starch out of your backbone. After eating continuously throughout the next day, one gets back into natural condition. Well, to say the least, a formal banquet is a good teacher of self control.

—Curtis Hultgren.

Food for Thought

Well folks, not a thought in a carload.

Believe it or not, dogs seek an education. Anyway one attended History class last week (in search of his master's degree) but finally Prof. Kuhn had him dismissed from class because of misconduct.

We don't know what kind of leather makes the best shoes, but banana skins make the best slippers.

I have never seen elephants smash their trunks, but I have seen pig skin valises.

A new definition comes to us from the grade schools of Omaha of the word panther. The definition is, "A panther is a man who makes pants."

People seldom improve when they have no one else to copy after but themselves.

A friend is a bank of credit on which we can draw supplies of confidence, council, sympathy, help and love.

Shades of Maple

"Down where the sun goes down, do-re-mi-fa-sol-la-ti-do, plinkety plink, boom, boom, Auld Lang Syne," sang the ether as we strolled in the shade of the maples on our campus the other day. "What the heck," we said, wondering what the racket might be.

"Haw, it's a radio and the rest of the noise is interference," said our little neglected friend, conscience. "But whose radio," we asked, and then as we noted that the windows of the third floor on Judyn Hall were open, we used our talented brain and solved the mystery.

You will recall that the music department of the university is located on the third floor of Judyn Hall. In some departments the Melody Way piano instruction for little ones as well as grown-ups was under way. Other persons were singing duets and mine truly so as to be heard over the roar of the vacuum-cleaner line. And still others were in the Conservatory using their instruments in preparation for orchestra practice.

And as we went on our way feeling content now that the mystery was solved

A DISSERTATION ON EDUCATION

Josh Billings once said that the wise man would let the other fellow get bit by the rattlesnake while he himself would be content to take all of the experience. That method of gaining experience can be called education.

Education as such serves a dual purpose and each of these purposes serves purely as a sacrifice either for the betterment of science or humanity. The second purpose serves solely for the better earning of a livelihood and the incidental amassing of a fortune. The first of these is by far the nobler of the two, but the latter has "IT," the universal appeal.

In discussing education, the inevitable self-made man arises like a Phoenix. It is true that self-made men have achieved great things and have made noble contributions to science and society as a whole, but the self made man is an exception to the rule rather than the standard. And that is one more reason in favor of an education; we cannot and do not live by exceptions but rather by accepted standards.

One may think that being a university graduate with three or four degrees, he has finesse, a finished education and culture; but if—with all the knowledge of the sciences, fine arts, psychology, philosophy, etc.—he cannot imbue them into his personality and apply them to the simpler things of life for his own and society's good, his time in gaining that knowledge was ill spent.—C. Uhlarik.

MY DEBUTE

I awoke one day to find
That I really had a mind
And I finally thought I ought
To do a thing that rhimed.

Beauty and truth, I said
Are things over my head
And so I'll write tonight
Of something else instead.

I'll be funny and make
A joke and then forsake
All thoughts of neat and feet
Perhaps the rhyme will take.

Old laughs came to my mind
With those unrefined
I couldn't make a break
For beauty so I pined.

I thought and thought in vain
It is not easy to explain
I decided that nice would suffice
Forever and again.

Truth and beauty will do
For him, and me, and you,
On such to write I am not bright
And so I must be through.

Who's Who in the U. of O.

Mr. E. O. Rasmussen, who is the instructor of economics and business administration at the U. of O. is a native of Kansas, having been born in that state, and received his B. A. degree from the Kansas State Agricultural College at Manhattan, Kansas. He then took his M. A. degree at Northwestern University at Chicago, Ill. For five years, he was cashier of the Union State Bank at Chetum, Kansas. He came to the U. of O. last year. For the past week he has been serving as acting dean, while Dean James has been out of the city.

Dr. Emery has just appointed Mr. Rasmussen as the Director of the Extension Division of the University. He will take complete charge of all extension work when school opens next September. Last summer, Mr. Rasmussen spent his vacation doing chautauqua work. The group of which he was in charge toured a number of the western states. Among the most interesting places which they visited were the Aztec ruins of New Mexico. Mr. Rasmussen said he enjoyed this work very much and that he plans to spend the coming summer as it again.

In his opinion, the University of Omaha is moving forward and will continue to do so in the future. "One reason is because Omaha is large enough to support an educational institution of this kind," he said. "Then, too, the people of Omaha will demand that the youth of the city have an opportunity of receiving their education at home, and Omaha is an industrial center, providing opportunities for well-trained executives."

The Honorary Chemical Society, Gamma Pi Sigma, held a meeting Tuesday, March 5, at 12:30 when officers for the year 1929-30 were elected. Results must necessarily be in next week's issue.

Theta Phi Delta met at the home of Ben Prather, Monday evening, February 25 to formally pledge De Loss Thompson, Leonard Barber and Ray Fraley. John Barber had the fraternity at his home, Monday, March 4.

Alpha Sigma Lambda met at the home of Neil Chapman, March 4. Earl and Merwin Hargrove were formally initiated. Plans for a spring party were discussed.

Phi Sigma Phi announces the pledging to the fraternity of Kenneth Jensen, Frank Threadgill, Emil Blaha and Tod Kuncleman. The fraternity will meet Monday evening, March 11 at the home of William Arthur.

Pi Omega Pi held a meeting at the home of June Pickard, Monday evening, March 4.

Sigma Chi Omicron met Tuesday evening, March 5 at the home of Marjorie Darling.

Kappa Psi Delta met at the home of Alice Rouse, Monday evening, March 4. Plans for a slumber party were made.

Phi Delta Psi met at the home of Merna Barclay, Monday evening, March 4. The annual formal banquet of the sorority will be given the evening of March 9 at the Knights of Columbus.

Gamma Sigma Omicron will hold a Saint Patrick's Day Party at the home of Lavonne Judson on March 8.

The American Mercury Offers $1,000 in Prizes

CONTEST IS OPEN TO '29 COLLEGE GRADUATES

The American Mercury offers two prizes, each of $500, for articles by college graduates of this year, discussing their experiences in college. One will go to the best article received from a male student, and the other to the best from a woman student. The conditions:

1. No article should be less than 3000 words long, no more than 8000.
2. Each must be the original work of a student graduating from an American college with the class of 1929, and taking the A. B. or its equivalent.
3. Each must bear the full name and address of the author, the name of the college attended and a statement of the course followed and the degree to be taken.
4. Each must be accompanied by a stamped and addressed envelope for its return in case it is not accepted.
5. The Editor of The American Mercury will be the sole judge of the competition.

All MSS. entered for the prizes should reach the office not later than July 1 next. The two prize-winners will be printed in the issue for September. In case others are received that seem to be worth printing, others will be made for them. But no contestant will be obliged to accept such an offer. There are no other conditions.

The aim of the competition is not to bring forth learned treatises on the high of education, but to obtain records of personal experiences. How do the four years in college strike an intelligent young man or woman—and only the highly intelligent will be able to formulate significant verdicts—immediately after they are over? Does the time seem to have been well spent? How much was learned? What was gained in other directions—by social contacts, and so on? How many of the instructors encountered seemed to have anything gen-

With the Faculty

President E. W. Emery returned from the Cleveland convention of the National Educational Association, Monday, March 4.

E. J. Rasmussen conducted Irwin A. Hammer's class in Orientation last Thursday. He gave a brief outline of the advance of man toward civilization.

Miss Frances Platt who has not been able to meet her classes since the beginning of the second semester resumed her French classes February 25.

F. K. Guilfoil, coach of the debate squads of the university, left Thursday evening, February 29, for Cotner where the affirmative team met Cotner College. He also accompanied the team to Grand Island Friday, and to Kearney Saturday where debates were held.

Mrs. Nell Griscom Gillard, faculty sponsor of the senior class, will entertain in their honor on Senior Recognition Day, March 6. Luncheon in the Pompadour Room of the Hotel Fontenelle will be followed by a matinee at the Brandeis Theater.

SKATING PARTY GIVEN BY COLLEGE OF COMMERCE CLUB

Three New Members Added

"When the cat's away the mice will play." This is what happened Friday, February 23, at the C. O. C. Club. Mr. A. J. Dunlap, sponsor of the club, is making a tour of Illinois and Ohio attending the N. E. A. Convention and studying the municipal university situation and athletic plans in general. The president of the club, DeLoss Thompson, was on a basketball trip, consequently the meeting was held in a very unparliamentary way.

It was decided to have a skating party at one of the skating rinks in South Omaha, on Monday, February 25. Three new members, Irene Bolas, William Kaufman and Harris Kunzelman, were initiated into the club.

Tommy Nuckolls, accompanied at the piano by Miss Helen Healey gave a vocal number at this meeting. Keith Sackett, another talented member of the club, also gave a very interesting song and dance number.

Don McMahon was building a house, and after the excavation had been dug he went to the Masonic Temple and demanded some Free Masons to come and lay bricks.

"By what right do you ask this?" demanded the Master.

"By Scottish Rite!" replied Don.

Prof. Kuhn: "Hey, put that dog out." Red Furness: "Hey yourself. You can't do that. That dog belongs to me."

CUTE

Do dogs seek an education? We cannot say, but just the same a noble representative of the canine class was making a tour $375 of the class-rooms last week. He was found for the most part of his time in the classes of Prof. Kuhn. Class collections of candy bars served to feed the noble brute when lunch-time came.

unely valuable to impart? Was life, in general, pleasant or not? Is there any feeling at the end that equipment has been improved? Does college arouse a desire for further learning, or do the four years seem enough?

The contestants will be expected to name their colleges, and to give the names of any teachers they may discuss, especially those who have struck them as competent. The final day for sending in MSS. has been put beyond commencement time, so that frankness need not imperil diplomas. The MSS. submitted will be judged by their honesty, their intelligence, their frankness of viewpoint, and their interest as human documents. The competition is open to the students of all American colleges of good repute. Contestants will be free to discuss all of the matters suggested, or any one of them, or anything outside them. It is desired to give them the utmost practicable freedom. MSS. may be sent in at any time before July 1. The names of all contestants and the prize-winners will be held strictly confidential.

D. A. R. APPOINTMENT

DEAN STEVENS RETURNS

"Dr. Little's dissertation was received with the profoundest attention, almost with bated breath," Mrs. Stevens explained enthusiastically. "Because he had been invited to present fully and with the greatest candor, feminine shortcomings, handicaps, limitations, and defects of character as he sees and understands them, that stand in the way of a woman's complete success in the administrative positions. And he did! I would be glad to give the girls of our university, individually or in groups, a resume of what Dr. Little told us for whether they are going into the teaching profession or planning to become home-makers, they will be entering upon the administrative fields where the thoughtful application of Dr. Little's judgments would be of practical value to them in remolding weaknesses into strength.

"The sectional discussion that stirred the greatest enthusiasm in our group was the one in which an account was given of the program of the activities promoted by the student organizations in one of the larger eastern universities for the building of university spirit.

"What do we mean by university spirit? Well, in its fullest flower, university spirit is the creative imagination in an institution of learning. Where it is at work it transforms the homeliest of buildings and the most barren of campuses into objects of almost romantic beauty and loyalty. It changes the classrooms from dull formality and conventional routine into vital and joyous contacts with inspiring personalities. It converts the historic past of an institution into noble traditions; and it makes of the student activities a glorious adventure in human relations. It permeates every phase of college life."

"Having been gone for a week and a day," said Mrs. Stevens, with a smile, "I realize with a genuine sense of loss what it means to be absent for ever so short a time, from the college life and the activities of our own beloved U. of O. I welcome the visits and the confidences of the students in the bringing me up to date again in the current life of our college community."

Edition 2 of Magazine Class-room Portraits

The class is called to order by a dusty looking prof. who is eating a sticky candy bar.

Prof.: Roooooll Caawl.

Class: That initiation was terrible.

Prof.: I said rooooll cawl three times.

Class: Paste all over the floor.

Prof.: Please keep quiet for a little while please.

Class: (Business of wise looks across the room.)

Prof.: Who's dog is that?

Class: What dog? Where? Hey, look out. Whoopse. What? A dog.

Prof.: You just tend to your own business like that dog and you will amount to something.

Class: Who's a dog? Hey, he called us dogs. What? A bunch of dogs, are we? We'll see about that. Some class!

Prof.: Now if you will kindly keep quiet I will tell you that I didn't call you dogs. Please leave the dog alone.

Class: (Business of eating cherry-cream pie with pocket knives.)

Prof.: If that dog makes too much noise he will have to go out.

Class: Aw, the pie's all gone. What time is it?

Prof.: DID SOMEONE SAY TIME?

Class: (Business of holding water-watches so that the prof. may see the dial.)

Prof.: Ahhh Right. The class is dismissed for today.

(By request, other advice to the incoming Freshmen will follow.)

Inquiring Reporters

Again the weekly inquiring reporters sallied forth, this time with the weighty question, "What do you think of our gym's new dress?"

Sam Thomas waxed exceedingly enthusiastic, exclaiming, "Oh boy! It's a wow!"

Widoe, the great cartoonist, said in his most snooty manner, "I'm not so hot about the color scheme, but it looks better anyway!"

"Oh I like it! It's cleaner at any rate!" said Elizabeth McCluskey.

"It looks all right, but O-o-o-o-o the odor!" exclaimed Maxine Delavan. (She was referring to the sufferings of the gym class the day after the painting occurred.)

Stanley Schlick on being accosted by the reporters asked blankly, "Jim's new dress? For gosh sakes, Jim who?"

"I'd rather not say," modestly replied Esther Ostergard, but on second thought, she added, "It's dandy!"

Alumnae Notes

Miss Alice Ayer, a former Kindergarten-Primary student of the university who now lives in Denver, visited school last week.

Miss Frances Adwers who attended the University of Omaha last year is now a student at the University of Minnesota. She has been pledged to Delta Delta Delta.

Miss Louise Mallinson who was a student at the university last year and who now attends the University of Minnesota has been pledged to Kappa Alpha Theta.

The Reverend and Mrs. Howard Stone Anderson of Williston, N. D., announce the birth of a baby daughter. Both Rev. and Mrs. Anderson were former students of the university, Mrs. Anderson becoming Kindergarten-Primary instructor following her work here.

Mrs. Harold Dye, formerly Miss Betty Craig, who was a student at the university last year, visited school last week.

Miss Mary Frances Young is now attending Duchesne College. She was a student at the University of Omaha last year.

Miss Clara Mae Morgan, a former student of the university, is spending the winter in San Francisco, Calif.

Miss Martina Jetter who graduated from the Kindergarten-Primary department last year is now teaching at Central school.

Collegiate Flying Clubs Newest Thing

"An average ten hour flying course costs in the neighborhood of three hundred dollars," says Robert B. Bell, president of the Harvard Flying Club, in the April College Humor. "The chief value of a flying club is that it allows a student to pile up flying time at a reasonable cost, cutting the price of a course nearly in half."

"The Harvard Flying Club, Inc., is the senior college flying organization in the country. Its first plane, flying only six months of the year since 1926, has flown nearly four hundred hours, and many pilots have been trained and licensed, all without serious mishap of any sort. This has been largely due to the success with which it has solved the main problems which will face every college flying organization; namely, the problem of finance, and the problem of operation."

"The primary aim of any flying club should be to keep its plane or planes actually in the air; to pile up flying time and to train pilots. That this may be done, some standard organization and well-defined rules are needed. It is hoped that this article will be of some interest and value to those who are contemplating the formation of flying clubs in other colleges and localities."

LIBRARY RECEIVES BOOKS

"Perhaps the most valuable single addition ever received by the university," said Miss Inez Chastnut, librarian, of the new volume Encyclopedia of Religion and Thirteenth Ethics, received last week.

So far this year 170 books have been received, about a hundred and twenty being music texts for Mrs. Gillard's classes. Two volumes on the origin of the world war by Fay are among the new acquisitions. Messages of the presidents and Plato's Dialogues are among the more recent gifts from friends of the school.

WELL?

His wife brushed her shiny black hair as he washed the top of her head. The birds were chirping cheerfully as they sang their twilight song of love. The last rays of the sun were creeping through the trees as he lowered the hair of the girl to the bath-park. His, you are wrong. She was not his home. She was his sweetheart and they were engaged to be married.

GREEK JABS

The Theta president just the same as elected himself by turning in his application, because he was the only one with that much nerve.

Phi Delt Pres.: "Just adore pickles." Alpha Sig: "Can't get 'em when they're sober, can you?"

The Alpha Sig sure believe that in unity there is strength. Whenever some bright Theta makes a dirty crack, the Alpha Sig all yell to each other: "Come on, fellows, let's get him."

Pi O actives didn't seem to get the joke the other day when someone said, "Hello, ladies,—and Pi O's."

Kappa members haven't enough pep or popularity to merit a Greek jab in this issue.

Illinois Democratic—No Autos There

"College society as understood in the East is scarcely heard of at the University of Illinois," says Francis C. Coughlin, in the April College Humor. "There is no charmed circle of exclusive fraternities—there are vastly to many letter houses to make possible a monopoly of wealth and talent in any select group of manageable size. Furthermore, personal aloofness is not counted a virtue at Illinois; it is considered an ill-mannered vice. Men freely smile away a second introduction. They speak after a first meeting. Rather frequently they speak before. A newcomer's formal allegiances, good or bad, are little taken into account; he is politely heard, freely and frankly answered, and accepted and dismissed on the basis of his own contentions. This is sometimes called democracy."

"Money in Champaign-Urbana means comparatively little. The snootiest date on the campus can be quite adequately managed on three dollars. Automobiles, always a ready source of collegiate eminence, are barred at Illinois by a faculty order."

Home Economics

The Home Economics Club held a tea for the reception of new members last Friday in place of the regular bi-monthly business meeting. The tea was served in the Conservatory. A musical program was presented by Miss Gertrude Truse, Saxophonist, and Miss Lavonne Judson, pianist, and several talks were given by various members of the club. Mrs. Andrea Overman presided and gave the welcoming speech.

EXPRESSION OF THANKS

In appreciation of the part they took in the program at the Garfield Circle No. 11 of the G. A. R., Miss Gertrude Truse, saxophonist, and Miss Irene Goodman, accompanist, received a beautiful bouquet of pink roses, violets, and salmon colored sweetpeas. These flowers formed a pleasing decoration in the outer office of Prof. Logan's conservatory last Friday.

Saxophone Quartette

Professor Shlanta has organized a saxophone quartette composed of Miss Gertrude Truse, Donald McMahon, Max Wainwright and Harold Baerren. This quartette with a little concentrated practice will soon be filling engagements through the Service Bureau, which secures musical entertainment for social organizations.

SLEEP

"Sleep is a wonderful thing, believed from pole to pole."

Like that, or something like that, goes a delightful poem, we believe known as Calveridge. The opinion is held by many that Mr. Calveridge was inspired while watching a U. of C. student watching the Gateway. They were not in a hurry for they never were, were they? Something something will be printed that will make some one there run to meet against something that will something of something. What is meant is that in order—and here of it. "It must be long now!"

Reserves Lose Out in Bluffs Tourney

Playing a fast breaking, hard-fighting game, Omaha University's Reserve team went down in defeat in their second game of the Council Bluffs District tournament 29 to 35.

The game was played with the winners of the last year's meet who use the gym for a practice court, consequently the Strand Theater Team had the upper hand. The whole list of tournament games were played upon the Y. M. C. A. floor which is so small that most of the average players can shoot from one end to the other.

From the very first the game was one of long shots with a fight after every shot under the basket. The winners held the lead all through the game, although Omaha did throw a scare into their opponents at one stage of the game. Omaha was outscored in all the quarters although they did play on an even basis during the third quarter.

The outstanding star for the Strand Theater was Carpenter who garnered 16 of the winner's points while the rest of his team were about on a par.

For Omaha, Fay led the scorers with a total of 10 points while Kuncleman was a close second with 9. The defensive work of Prather and Gamble was outstanding for Omaha, their close guarding on the forward line keeping the score down to a low average. All the rest of the team played a good game as well but were put at a disadvantage on account of the smallness of the gym.

The Council Bluffs Union Pacific team forfeited the first game to Omaha 2 to 0.

SPORT TUTORIAL

ABOUT THE FUTURE

The start of spring football practice is another sign that football is getting to be a bigger and more important phase of University of Omaha progress. And Mr. Dunlap says that he has several prospects for next year averaging around 200 pounds as well as many of lesser weight. When things are picking up, the very atmosphere betrays it, as some dizzy poet might put it.

For the future, we envision:

A giant stadium full of raccoon coats, a good proportion of which contain Juniors and Seniors (and not all or nearly all) Frosh and Sophs. Also there are visitors from all parts of Iowa and Nebraska. The thing seems close to achievement now where it seemed in the hazy distance before. Everything is so much better that the Sophomores today expect a lot by the time they knock down snappily engraved diplomas. The Freshmen would expect too if they were somewhat less adolescent and able to.

A gymnasium where tournaments are held that bring teams from all ends of the country. Why not? The location is central, and Omaha merchants surely would sympathize and help if the facilities were here. Omaha is a convention city. It might well be a tournament city.

Student activity tickets that are bought separately and campaigns for their sale which arouse a spirit that gives the football team a husky preliminary push. The students could pay a good part of the athletic fund along with their tuition, but those wanting to go to the games could be required to buy activity tickets. The present way, we buy tickets because we have to. The new way because we would want them, and because we seriously would recommend their purchase.

Tickets to the games would crowd the downtown drug stores with customers.

All these things are for the future, and a future that is not dependent on the favorable whim of anyone. We hear and see excitement for the future. Whether this particular commotion shall usher in material progress or not, these things are coming. The very air can't be fooling us.

SEASON NOT OVER

It should be recalled that the basketball season is not over. This revelation is made on the day when a famous man (whatever that is) is a member of the Omaha Club, and at his private mahogany desk. Said he: "The girls are a bunch of cowards. People are liable to forget."

People, indeed the spectators. "They know start remembering."

The girls' basketball team is a grade A team. One of the best in the city. They are a bunch of winners. On sometimes and watch them play up and down the court.

Some of the best evening might go expecting to see them playing. A couple of such a bunch guaranteed.

2nd Team Trimmed When 2 Teams Play

The two U. of O. girls' teams played each other last Saturday night in the City League. Though they fought gamely, the second team was vanquished by a score of 33 to 2. Better teamwork, close guarding, and the accurate basket shooting of the Grace twins, who played forward in this game, gave the first team the victory. The second team was able to score only a single field goal.

Thursday night the second team played off the postponed game with the Van Avery Sporting Goods Company. The score of the game was 16 to 2 in favor of the Van Avery Sporting Goods team.

U. of O. Girls to Meet League-leading K. C. Team Saturday

Saturday night, the U. of O. girls' first team will meet the K. C. team in the feature game of the evening in the City League. The K. C. Girls are at present in undisputed possession of first place in the league, having been undefeated up to the present time. The U. of O. team has been tied once and defeated once.

It's going to be a real fight. The U. of O. team is out for revenge. Last year, the two teams were both undefeated throughout the entire season and played each other in the final round of the league. The K. C. team was the victor in a fast, hard fought game. However, the Omaha girls are determined that the result will be different this year.

The second team, which has not fared so well this season is beginning to show evidences of real teamwork. They will play the Y. W. team, and are expected to put up a good fight.

Are you a reporter? Or rather, are you a good reporter? They are few and far between; but if you will show us what you can do, cover your beat adequately, and get your stuff in on time, we will enter your name on the Reporterial Staff, and welcome you on the Gateway. Tell some member of the staff that you are willing to try the responsibility of reporting, and you will be given an assignment on the bulletin board up in the Gateway Office. After your first week, if your work is satisfactory, you will be considered on the staff. Then you can start working up to being a good reporter.

The Tennis Season Opens in Colleges

"I believe that in the future practically all of the ranking tennis players on this side of the water will be college men," says William E. Hinchliff, coach of tennis and squash racquets at Yale, in the April College Humor. "At Yale it is estimated that two-thirds of the students play tennis. The number of courts could be doubled again and there would still be too few. The preparatory schools of the country are filled with brilliant young players. It takes no stretch of the imagination to see them playing tennis and continuing their interest in the game when they matriculate at the higher institutions of learning."

"Speaking of tennis in a general way, I would like to point out the fact that the dope is upset in tennis probably less than in any other sport. When both players are in trim and fighting for all they are worth, you will have a hard time finding a sport that brings such consistent victories to the admittedly better player. It is a sport where one can work with one's game at practice and feel confident that the breaks of the game will have little or no effect on the outcome of the contests."

First All-American Cage Team Is Named

For the first time in sports history, an All-American basketball team has been selected.

Joe Godfrey, Jr., Sports Editor of College Humor and well known sports authority, with the co-operation of 200 basketball coaches has done for basketball in his All-American selections what Walter Camp did in starting the annual choosing of All-American college football teams. Mr. Godfrey traveled all over the country, seeing as many of the major quintets in action as possible, and for the rest he has relied upon the composite judgment of the college coaches. Here is the first All-American five:

Forward.....Hyatt, Pittsburgh
Forward.....Schaaf, Pennsylvania
Center.....Murphy, Purdue
Guard.....Wineapple, Providence
Guard.....Pickell, Arkansas
Alternate.....Churchill, Oklahoma

Hyatt hails from Uniontown, Pa.; Schaaf, from Philadelphia; Murphy, from Marion, Ind.; Wineapple, from Salem, Mass.; Pickell, from Pocahontas, Ark.

The Stage Crew for the year has been announced and its members are as follows: N. K. Woerner, stage manager; Norman Shoemaker, electrician; Charles Matthews, property manager; Merle Menzies, Floyd Wilson, Joe Kubat, Sam Thomas, Frederick Pierce.

WEEK-END DANCING DURING MARCH

SPECIAL WEEK-END DANCING AT PEONY PARK
DURING MARCH

Due to numerous requests from the college men of the city, the management of Peony Park is offering a series of Collegiate Dances in Omaha's most exclusive ball room.

March 8, 15, 22 and 29 will be known as University Nights at Peony Park, and all students are cordially invited to attend. For consultation on spring parties, we Don Furness, the promoter of good times.

Through the Hoop

The basketball team is beginning to wonder who the wiseheimer is that writes the Greek Jab column. You all notice that none of the articles are signed. Well, anyone who takes refuge under the name of a paper to throw slams at somebody whom they cannot measure up to, is three-kinds of something with something else thrown in.

To get back to something that is at least advancing the University and not tearing it apart, the Gateway Sports staff want to take off their hat to the fellows who have striven so mightily to win basketball games for The University. We all know just what trials the squad as a whole has to go through, and we take off our hats to those men who have had the courage to see a sinking ship come to port. More power to you gang.

The girls' basketball team took a decided slump in their last game. What was it girls, the hot air in the gym, or was it the fellows on the side lines that commanded the attention of the team? Stick to it and beat the K. C. team, the whole university is behind you.
